PACMEDY webinars

1st webinar: Indian monsoon mean state and variability (February 19 2019)

- J Cr tat: Mid-Holocene to present-day evolution of the Indian monsoon in transient global simulations
- R D'Agostino: Northern Hemisphere Monsoon response to mid-Holocene orbital forcing and greenhouse-induced global warming
- R Krishnan: Mid-Holocene precipitation and evolution of the Indus valley civilization
- X Shi: Indian monsoon mean state and variability based on AWI-ESM
- A Schurer: Effect of Orbital forcing on Monsoons

2nd webinar: South American and West African monsoons (March 20 2019)

- B Turcq:
 - Holocene data on South American Monsoon, reasons for isotope discrepancies
 - Analyses of Circulation Types in mid-Holocene IPSLCM5 simulation
- G Leduc: ENSO reconstruction and rainfall changes along the eastern tropical Pacific margin
- P Dias: Summary of the group activities within PACMEDY & FAPESP and key results
- R D'Agostino: Southern Hemisphere monsoon response to midholocene and rcp8.5
- C Williams: West African monsoon in the HadGEM3 LIG, MH and PI simulations

3rd webinar: ENSO and its teleconnections (April 20 2019)

- M Carr : Coral and mollusk synthesis of Holocene interannual variability
- Hegerl Gabi: Sandy Tudhope et al's recent work
- C Brierley: ENSO teleconnections
- P Braconnot: ENSO in the transient simulations
- B Turcq: El Nino influence on intense precipitation in the East Equatorial Pacific based on the transient IPSL
- V Khon: New results on ENSO, seasonal cycle and ENSO-monsoon relationship based on KCM transient simulation
